DATA KEY
Symbol	Definition
Y	Yes, the newspaper prints wedding announcements for gay and lesbian couples.
CBC	Newspaper prints wedding announcements for gay and lesbian couples on a case-by-case basis (used as little as possible). Often used when paper clearly would print the announcement, but was unwilling to give a definite statement on policy.
L	Newspaper will print announcements but only if legally recognized. The meaning of "legally recognized" varies from paper to paper, but usually means either that the couple's union was legally recognized by some authority (i.e. obtained marriage license in Canada, Massachusetts, California or Spain, or obtained domestic partnership that is recognized by a state authority).
D	Newspaper will print announcements but only in a different section of the newspaper from opposite-sex couples' announcements.
Y~	Newspaper will print announcements but only with a different title than for opposite-sex couples' announcements (i.e. "commitment ceremony" or "partnership", not "wedding" or "marriage"). This is a new designation for the 2008 update.

Symbols that appear in bold with an asterisk (*) to the right are new responses as of 2008.

Example: Y or CBC or Y~ or D or L
